Phonological Awareness Literacy Screening	PALS-K	University of Virginia (UVA)	The Phonological Awareness Literacy Screening (PALS) provides a comprehensive assessment of young children's knowledge of the important literacy fundamentals that are predictive of future reading success. PALS is the state-provided screening tool for Virginia's Early Intervention Reading Initiative (EIRI) and is used by 99% of school divisions in the state on a voluntary basis. PALS consists of three instruments, PALS-PreK (for preschool students), PALS-K (for kindergartners), and PALS 1-3 (for students in Grades 1-3). PALS assessments are designed to identify students in need of additional reading instruction beyond that provided to typically developing readers. PALS also informs teachers' instruction by providing them with explicit information about their students' knowledge of literacy fundamentals. Mid-year assessment and PALS Quick Checks allow for ongoing student progress monitoring throughout the year.	https://pals.virginia.edu/tools-1-3.html	Assess students on fundamental literacy skills including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> phonological awareness alphabet recognition concept of word letter-sound knowledge spelling/phonics Provide teachers with explicit information about individual students in order to plan instruction in language arts. Teachers are asked to examine the data and reflect on student achievement. This examination and reflection influence instructional practice for subsequent years. This assessment is required of all kindergarten students in the fall and spring. Determine eligibility for Title I program at targeted schools.	Reading	PALS-K is a measure of children's knowledge of several important literacy fundamentals: phonological awareness, alphabet recognition, concept of word, knowledge of letter sounds and spelling. PALS-K provides a direct means of matching literacy instruction to specific literacy needs and provides a means of identifying those children who are relatively behind in their acquisition of these fundamental literacy skills.
