Advance your career by earning a master's degree or advanced certificate from the George Mason University Education Leadership Program.

The Education Leadership Program will be holding a recruitment session for a newly forming Summer 2019 Alexandria/Arlington Cohort. The cohort will be open to educators from ACPS and APS.

The intent of this new cohort is to provide professional development training and education to build leadership capacity within and across school divisions.

Why choose the EDLE Program?

■ The Education Leadership Program is a nationally recognized program by the National Council of Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) and Educational Leadership Constituent Council (ELCC).

■ The Education Leadership Program includes all coursework required for the Virginia Licensure and Administration PreK-12.

■ The Education Leadership Program faculty is comprised of professors with impressive credentials, including former superintendents, principals and researchers. Each faculty member has a genuine interest in developing each student's potential to positively impact PreK-12 student learning.

■ The Education Leadership Program is designed to meet the needs of working teachers, with courses being offered in the evening and in the summer. Most students complete the program within two years.
